This event is open to all who live or work in Ha'ikū

You're invited to join together with fellow members of the Ha'ikū community in a conversation about the future of The Merwin Conservancy, a nonprofit organization that is taking care of the 18-acre Pe'ahi property that once belonged to poet and environmentalist W.S. Merwin and his wife Paula Merwin, who lived in Ha'ikū for over 40 years. For more information, please reach out to the Merwin Conservancy's director of programs Sara Tekula at
